

Cruciferous Vegetable Recipes

In the recipes below, low glycemic ingredients are used predominantly and dairy products are usually optional, except in a few recipes. Dairy alternatives are suggested when appropriate. You can often use leftover veggies in many recipes, or use your imagination and embellish your own. An attempt has been made to introduce you to some cruciferous veggies that you may have not yet tasted. Get ready for an adventure!

NOTE – it is preferable to choose organic veggies, fruits, dairy products, and animal protein whenever possible. All oils should be “cold pressed.” For olive oil, please choose “extra virgin, cold pressed” (may also be called “first cold pressing”). Coconut oil should be labeled “virgin” and “organic.”

Breakfast Recipes

Scrambled Greens - yields 1 serving

Increase the amounts as needed for more servings.

2 large eggs
1 tsp. olive or grapeseed oil
Salt and pepper to taste
¼ tsp. dried basil or oregano or 1 Tbsp. if using fresh herbs
½- ¾ cup finely chopped kale or baby bok choy
Watercress for garnish, optional

Beat eggs, salt and pepper, and basil or oregano in a small bowl. Heat a frying pan, over medium heat and add ½ tsp. oil and greens, cooking until greens have wilted, about 2-3 minutes. Turn onto a plate. Add remaining ½ tsp. oil to frying pan and return to heat. Add eggs and let set for a moment; then stir while cooking for about 1 minute. Return greens to pan; mix and stir eggs and greens until cooked to your liking. Serve immediately, garnished with optional watercress.

Veggie Parmesan Eggs – yields 2 servings

You may omit the parmesan and mozzarella cheese if you are avoiding dairy. This recipe is great for using up small bits of leftover veggies. If you have no leftovers, then sauté your choice of veggies in a tsp. of olive oil before cooking the eggs.

4 large eggs
2 Tbsp. grated parmesan cheese, optional
Salt and pepper to taste
½ tsp. dried tarragon or basil, (use more if herbs are fresh)
1 tsp. olive oil
4 scallions, minced, using some of the green part
1 clove garlic, minced (optional)
¾ cup cooked leftover diced veggies (preferably greens or broccoli, but any veggies are fine)
6-8 cherry tomatoes
1 Tbsp. grated mozzarella, optional
½ avocado, sliced (for garnish)

Beat eggs with parmesan, salt, pepper and tarragon or basil. Set aside.

Heat a skillet over medium heat and add olive oil. Sauté scallions just until softened, 1-2 minutes; then add garlic, stirring for 1 more minute. Add cooked veggies and stir-fry over medium-low heat until warmed through. Add eggs and let sit for a minute before stirring to desired consistency. Stir in mozzarella and cherry tomatoes for only 1 minute and remove to a serving plate. Garnish with sliced avocado and serve immediately.

Appetizers

Popcorn Kale - yields approximately 6 appetizer servings

1 bunch kale, dinosaur or other variety

2-3 Tbsp. olive oil

Sprinkle of sea salt

Fold the kale leaves in half along the stem and use a sharp knife to trim off the stem part. Then cut into 2-3 inch pieces. In a large bowl, toss kale with olive oil (the amount depends on the size of your bunch of kale), mixing well to coat all the leaf pieces. Spread on a cookie sheet and roast at 375 degrees for 5-7min. Gently turn the pieces over and bake for another 5-10 min., being careful not to burn, but being sure they crisp up. Sprinkle lightly with sea salt and enjoy. The pieces should come out crunchy; leave them in the oven a little longer if needed.

Cauliflower Popcorn - yields approximately 8 appetizer servings

Here is another surprisingly delicious appetizer. It can be served fresh out of the oven or at room temperature.

2 Tbsp. olive oil, approximately

$\frac{3}{4}$ - 1 pound (approximately) cauliflower

Salt to taste

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Brush 1 or 2 baking sheets with some olive oil. Cut cauliflower into 1 inch florets. Toss with olive oil and spread evenly on the baking sheet(s). Roast in pre-heated oven for about 10 minutes. Shake around or toss with a spoon so that they brown evenly. Roast for another 5 minutes. Taste at this point to see if they are done to your liking. Allow to cool for a few minutes before sprinkling with salt and serving. This may also be served at room temperature.

Cruciferous Crudités!

Using your favorite dip, (see recipes below) the following veggies, cut into serving size pieces, make delicious dippers: kohlrabi, broccoli, cauliflower, radish, and daikon (a type of radish).

Kohlrabi looks like a big round hot air balloon. It comes in green or purple and is a sweet tasting, broccoli-flavored veggie that is high in potassium and fiber, and low in calories. The smaller ones are sweeter and need less peeling. They are wonderful added to salad or as a crunchy snack with or without dip.

Daikon, also called Chinese radish, is a large white root that can measure as large as 6 inches wide by 20 inches long. It is low in calories and rich in vitamin C. Just peel and cut into strips for dipping or in a salad.

Spinach or Kale Dip – yields 2 ½ cups

2 tsp. olive oil
2 shallots, chopped
1 small onion, diced or 4 sliced green onions
1 Tbsp. minced garlic
8-Oz fresh spinach or kale leaves
2 tsp. lemon juice
1 cup non fat Greek yogurt
½ cup crumbled nonfat feta cheese
2 Tbsp. chopped fresh dill
¼ tsp. salt (only if needed)
Freshly ground black pepper to taste

In a wok or large sauté pan over medium heat, cook shallots and onion in olive oil for 3-4 minutes. Add garlic and sauté for another minute. Add spinach or kale and cook until wilted. If using kale you will need to cook it for a few more minutes than the spinach until it softens. Scoop mixture into food processor and pulse until almost pureed. Add remaining ingredients and pulse once only. Add black pepper to taste.

Hummus – yields about 1½ cups

1 (15-oz.) can chickpeas, drained and rinsed
¼ cup sesame tahini
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
1-2 cloves garlic (more if desired)
¼ tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. olive oil
1 tsp. ground cumin, optional
Puree all ingredients, except cumin, in food processor or blender. Taste and add more salt or garlic as needed. If using cumin, add and re-blend. Store in refrigerator up to 1 week.
Use with cruciferous crudités and whole grain crackers or tortillas.

Walnut Spread - yields about 2½ cups

1 (15-oz.) can garbanzo beans, drained and rinsed, reserving liquid
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup lightly packed fresh basil leaves
¼ cup olive oil
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
¼ tsp. each salt and pepper
In food processor, process ¼ cup reserved liquid with remaining ingredients. Scrape down sides and add more liquid as needed to make a smooth mixture. Store in refrigerator for 4-5 days. Serve with cruciferous crudités (or any raw veggie you like) and whole grain crackers or pita bread.

Marinated Crucifers and Friends

This is a wonderful appetizer to take to a pot luck. The longer it marinates the better it tastes!

Marinade

½ cup olive oil
¼ cup balsamic vinegar (any vinegar is fine)
1 tsp. each dried oregano and basil (or 2 Tbsp. chopped fresh)
2 cloves garlic, slivered
½ tsp. salt

Veggies

1 head of broccoli, blanched for 2 minutes
1 head of cauliflower, blanched for 2 minutes
1 (15-oz.) can hearts of palm, drained and cut into ¼-inch slices
1 (15-oz.) can pitted black olives, drained
½ lb. mushrooms, cleaned and quartered

Mix marinade ingredients in a jar. Steam or blanch broccoli and cauliflower until just tender but not soft. Mix with remaining veggies in a large bowl and pour marinade over. Mix well and marinate at least 8 hours (toss frequently). Serve with toothpicks. Leftover marinade may be used as salad dressing.

Soups

Beans and Greens – yields 4-5 servings

2 Tbsp. olive oil
2 medium cloves garlic, crushed
1 large onion, chopped
1 bay leaf
1 stalk celery, diced
2 medium carrots, diced
1 tsp. salt
Freshly ground black pepper
6 cups water, vegetable, or chicken broth
2 cups cooked white beans (or 1 [15-oz.] can, drained)
½ lb fresh kale, bok choy, or collards (or a combination), chopped fine

In a 4-6 quart soup pot, sauté the onions in olive oil over low heat. When onions are soft, add bay leaf, garlic, celery, carrot, salt and pepper. Stir and sauté another 5 minutes. Add broth or water and cover. Simmer about 20 minutes. Add beans and your choice of greens. Cover and continue to simmer, over very low heat, another 15-20 minutes. Serve immediately or refrigerate and reheat.

Cauliflower Leek Soup – yields approximately 8 servings

2 large leeks (about 1½ lbs)
2 Tbsp. coconut or olive oil
1 large head cauliflower, divided into large florets

3 cups broth, chicken or vegetable stock, or water
1 cup (8 oz.) plain non-fat Greek style yogurt (gives a creamier taste without the extra calories)
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut the leeks in half, lengthwise, and cut each half into ½ inch thick slices. Rinse well to remove any dirt stuck between the layers. Heat oil in a soup pot, and cook leeks over medium heat, stirring frequently until softened, but not browned. Add cauliflower and broth, stock, or water, and bring to a boil. Using broth or stock gives it a richer flavor. You may not need to use salt; taste carefully before adding salt. Lower heat to a simmer and cook until cauliflower is very soft. Remove from heat and allow to cool slightly. Using a blender or food processor, puree about ½ the soup in batches, and return to soup pot. Stir in yogurt and mix well to combine. Season to taste with salt and pepper; gently reheat and serve. If you like a completely pureed soup, you may blend the entire pot, but it is nice to have some lumpier consistency.

Side Dishes

Basic Greens - yields 6-8 servings

Cooking greens such as kale, collards, or bok choy can seem daunting until you realize how easy it is. The following recipe is a basic one that you can embellish with whatever seasonings you like.

2-3 cloves garlic, minced or cut into slivers

1 Tbsp. olive or coconut oil

1 bunch kale, collards, or bok choy, washed

½ cup veggie or chicken broth

Cut out the tough center stem from the kale or collards; chop or slice into small pieces. Bok choy has no tough center so just chop into small pieces. Sauté garlic in olive or coconut oil for about 30 seconds over low heat. Increase heat to medium and add chopped greens; sauté for about 3-4 minutes. Bok choy needs no further cooking. For kale or collards, add broth, cover and simmer over low heat for about 10 minutes.

Variation - for seasoned greens, add small amounts of any of the following alone or in combination: dry chipotle pepper, balsamic vinegar, ground cumin or curry powder.

Roasted Brussels Sprouts - yields approximately 4 servings

This can be served fresh out of the oven or at room temperature. This recipe may change your relationship to “yucky” Brussels sprouts!

2 Tbsp. olive oil, approximately

¾ - 1 pound (approximately) Brussels sprouts

Salt to taste

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Brush 1 or 2 baking sheets with some olive oil. Leave the Brussels sprouts whole if small and cut in half if large. Toss with olive oil and spread evenly on the baking sheet(s). Roast in pre-heated oven for about 10 minutes. Shake around or toss with a spoon so that they brown evenly. Roast for another 5 minutes. Taste at this point to see if they are done to your liking. Allow to cool for a few minutes before sprinkling with salt and serving. They may also be served at room temperature.

Rosemary Roasted Cauliflower & Pine Nuts - yields approximately 5 servings

1 Tbsp. fresh rosemary
½ cup raw pine nuts
Sea salt
Fresh-ground pepper

Preheat oven to 425°. Place cauliflower florets in a large mixing bowl. Add garlic and stir throughout. Pour in olive oil and ensure that all cauliflower pieces are drizzled with oil. Sprinkle with rosemary, pine nuts, salt, and pepper. Transfer mixture evenly onto baking sheet and set, uncovered, in oven at 425° for 20-25 minutes or until the top and edges of cauliflower are lightly brown. You may stir about half way through if they are becoming too brown. Serve immediately.
